

TERRACORPS

TerraCorps, is an innovative national service program helping communities conserve and secure land for the health and well-being of people and nature. 2019 Community Engagement Coordinator with Hilltown Land Trust

Hilltown Land Trust
332 Bullitt Road
Ashfield, MA 01330
Hilltown-land-trust.org

Hilltown Land Trust (HLT) serves thirteen rural towns in western Massachusetts (Ashfield, Chester, Chesterfield, Conway, Cummington, Goshen, Huntington, Middlefield, Plainfield, Westhampton, Williamsburg, Windsor, and Worthington). Hilltown Land Trust's mission is to protect land and promote ecological diversity and health, respectful land stewardship, historic character and natural beauty in the Hilltowns of western Massachusetts. Since our founding in 1986, HLT has acquired 34 conservation restrictions (CRs) and owns 9 properties protecting over 4,000 acres. HLT maintains active hiking trails at four properties with development of a fifth property with trails in the coming year. In 2010, HLT and The Trustees of Reservations (The Trustees), one of America's oldest statewide conservation organizations, launched a partnership to combine the efforts and resources of these two non-profit land conservation organizations in the Hilltowns. HLT and The Trustees continue to function as independent entities, but now collaborate in order to increase the pace of land conservation in the Hilltowns.

Hilltown Land Trust's offices are located at the Bullitt Reservation in Ashfield, a large, beautiful, conserved property with public hiking trails and a small garden owned by The Trustees. The office building is a wheelchair-accessible, energy-efficient house with offices and a meeting room that also serves as an event space. Employees of The Trustees also make use of the Bullitt Reservation office space, and a workshop located in an adjacent barn. Hilltown Land Trust is staffed by two part-time, year-round employees. In addition to the office space in Ashfield, the regional office of The Trustees in Northampton is occasionally used by Hilltown Land Trust staff for work and meetings.

Community Engagement Coordinators (CEC) build the long-term capacity of their Service Sites by developing culturally inclusive systems, programming, partnerships, and events. By collaborating with community groups, CECs demonstrate how the sustainable use and conservation of land can help address community needs related to education, public health, economic development, neighborhood revitalization, homelessness, poverty, hunger, and cultural decline. By helping a broader cross-section of people experience the benefits of land, CECs build connections between the environment and people that increase public support for land access, revitalization, and conservation initiatives. Through engaging diverse peoples and collaborating with community partners, CECs build bridges that reinforce the connection between land and a sustainable social, economic, and environmental future for all people.

TerraCorps members engage with their supervisors to develop and carry out three or more capacity building projects over the course of the service year. Some of these projects will involve recruiting, training, and/or managing community volunteers. Hilltown Land Trust has proposed the following potential projects for their Community Engagement Coordinator:

- 1) Plan and promote a series of high-quality events, including hikes, skill-building activities, educational talks, a race, and arts-oriented events aimed at reaching diverse audiences and building the skills and engagement of our volunteers. Some of these events will be organized in partnership with recreational groups, schools, town committees, libraries, senior centers and garden clubs.
- 2) Assist with producing organizational communications, including the website, social media, newsletter, and enews.

Development of these and other projects will occur during the first two months of service and consider the member's interests and skills.
